Perfection isn't always easy to find.

That's why Emma Brown's search for the perfect bag led her to create her own label. High-quality leather, first-class craftsmanship, a well-organised and roomy interior – and anything but mass produced. These were the standards that Emma Brown set herself – standards that perfectly reflect those of the Mercedes-Benz brand.

Today Emma Brown, who is based in Munich, creates exclusive leather designs for the Collection's "Classy Punk" and "Urban Chic" lines, based on the latest London trends. Using Italian leather and with an impressive eye for detail.

Good design never rests on its laurels.

The search for perfection is all about evolution. Particularly when it comes to design. At Mercedes-Benz design classics are made to last, right down to the smallest detail. The characteristic lettering on the rear of the vehicle instantly identifies a Mercedes-Benz – even if it has recently changed a little.

With the launch of the new A-Class, more contemporary, slimmer lettering was introduced – a change that has already been reflected across our range of model series key rings, all featuring a scale replica of the lettering on the vehicle.

Its contours are seared in the memory, and anything that recollects its special appeal is always a welcome sight. Take, for example, the stylish set of four wine stoppers based on the design of the gear knob in the legendary sports car.

Step by step in pursuit of perfection – by hand.

AMG vehicles from Mercedes-Benz radiate sporty character and perfection in every detail. And the same can be said of our AMG leather series with the “Handmade in Germany” label. Here the finest European leather is put through up to 250 processing stages. For our carbon leather series, a wafer-thin coating of carbon fibre is applied to the high-quality unsplit leather.

The inspiration here came from the carbon fibre-trimmed interior of our AMG vehicles. Now even an iPad® sleeve can echo the sporty feel of exclusive AMG design.
